

Kinetico Is Your Clear Choice

Kinetico

Directions to operate a Kinetico twin tank, non-electric, demand water conditioner:

- 1. Add regenerant.

The Competition

Directions to operate a single tank, electric, demand water conditioner:

- 1. Plug in.
- 2. Set the time of day.
- 3. Set recharge time.
- 4. Set backup recharge time.
- 5. Calculate daily capacity needed.
- 6. Set total capacity.
- 7. Set reserve capacity.
- 8. Set salt dosage.
- 9. Set length of backwash.
- 10. Set length of brine and slow rinse.
- 11. Set length of fast rinse.
- 12. Add regenerant.

ALSO:

- When your water usage is higher than normal, press guest cycle.
- When you lose power, repeat steps 2 through 11.

Kinetico Incorporated, headquartered in Newbury, Ohio, is a leading manufacturer of a full line of top quality water treatment systems. Since 1970, the company has been engineering and manufacturing products that are innovative, user-friendly and responsive to the customer's changing demands. Kinetico serves customers in an expanding variety of residential, commercial, industrial and municipal applications in North America and nearly 100 countries. Kinetico's advanced technology and commitment to the customer continue to set it apart from the competition.

Kinetico Doesn't Make Soft Water Hard

Kinetico Incorporated
kinetico.com

Made in U.S.A. ©2007 Kinetico Incorporated
"Kinetico" and the Kinetico logo are trademarks of Kinetico Incorporated, Newbury, Ohio.

06/07
Part No. 8038C